Fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Luke 5 : 1 - 11

Jesus sometimes reveals his power over Mother Nature. All creation is under my authority both in the heavens and the earth below, the sea and all within it, to the birds in the skies. All creation gives glory to me. This story demonstrates the power of the Son of God.

Pope Francis

The world in which we live, and which we are called to love and serve, even with its contradictions, demands that the Church strengthens cooperation in all areas of her mission.

National News

Because of the serious shortage of priests in the U.S., dioceses are now employing women as parish administrators. Administering a parish is not exclusive to priests. Anyone with administrative skills can run a parish. Times are changing fast in the Church.

During pandemic, religious pilgrimages are the largest group of tourists traveling.

Is Privacy still a value? (Part 1 of 2)

Privacy is greatly endangered today. Our reliance on digital media makes our private information vulnerable. We are all too willing to sacrifice our personal data to the digital world. Many are willing to share intimate information on social media. Americans have always respected privacy though the term not mentioned in the U.S. Constitution, though implied in the Bill of Rights. In our privacy space we demand privacy but online we are willing to expose ourselves, our data much more. It is a contradiction.

The Synod

Parish Reflection—People come to church looking for God but also longing for community and real connections, fellowships. A safe space where one can be vulnerable and feel at home. Spanish groups are perceived to be warmer, more familial and more inter-generational, whereas Anglo groups are more individualistic, goal oriented.

“The best and most beautiful things in the world cannot be seen or even touched – they must be felt with the heart.” — Helen Keller
